Journal Article

Journal Article Accessed Online

Many publishers assign a Digital Object Identifier (DOI) to journal articles and other online documents. When available, include the DOI at the end of the citation:

If there is no DOI, give the URL of the journal (you can Google the title of the journal):

Book

Chapter in an Edited Book or Encyclopedia

YouTube Video

See other side for more examples→
Web site

Section of a Web Site

Citing Authors
When citing authors, give only surnames and initials:
Garcia, J. J.

Two to six authors are listed this way:
Garcia, J. J., Weir, R. H., Lesh, P. C., Kreutzmann, W., McKernon, R., & Howard, K.

For more than six authors, use et al after the first author’s name:
Garcia, J. J. et al.

In-Text Citations
When citing in the text, include the author and year of publication:
(Johnson, 2004).

When citing a quote in the text, include the page number as well:
(McKernan, 2011, p. 192).

Additional Guidelines
- Capitalize only the first title, subtitle and any proper nouns for books and articles:
  Obstetrician and gynecologist: A survey of practice in the Republic of Ireland.
- References is centered at the top of your works cited page.
- Entries are in alphabetical order by the author’s last name and double-spaced.

For more information see the 7th edition of A Writer’s Reference by Diana Hacker and Nancy Sommers. Several copies are available in the library (808.042 H25 2011).

Please contact the library if you have any questions.

Shoen Library
503.534.7040 / reference@marylhurst.edu